

STUDIA HERCYNIA

Advancing Classical Archaeology and its associated disciplines, not only in the Czech Republic, but particularly within the wider European context.

Studia Hercynia is a peer-reviewed journal that focuses:

- on the study of the material culture of Antiquity
- on the relations between the Mediterranean and Central Europe
- on the traditions of ancient art in European culture
- and related phenomena

The journal, originally founded in 1997 by Prof. Jan Bouzek, has recently undergone a major change of layout and style, and is now being published by the Faculty of Arts publishing house.

We offer

- Rigorous peer-review system
- Speedy publication (two issues per year)
- Printed copy and open access
- No fees charged
- Language editing
- Each author receives one printed issue

Deadlines

January 31st (summer issue)
June 30th (winter issue)

Contacts

You can find further information on our website <http://studiahercynia.ff.cuni.cz/en/> or contact us directly at studia.hercynia@ff.cuni.cz

We are looking forward to your contributions!

Peter Pavúk, editor-in-chief
Jan Kysela and Petra Tušlová, assistant editors